History

The first Hick'ry Pit Restaurant was founded in Oakland, CA by Emil Villa in 1928. Mr. Villa immigrated to the United States from Italy & started a bakery due to his background. However, his plans quickly changed when the barbecue restaurant next door was for sale. His ambition drew him to purchase the restaurant, tear down the wall & start the Hick'ry Pit: a restaurant that specializes in wood-smoked barbecue & homemade baked goods!

Mr. Villa's attention to detail, high standards & quality food contributed to the restaurant's immediate success. As his success grew, so did his reach. In October 1958, he opened his sixth restaurant in Walnut Creek, CA. After over 95 years as a Bay Area icon, Mr. Villa's vision continues with high quality barbecue & homemade baked goods that multiple generations can enjoy together!
