

Chef Vola's does not publish its menu online. Instead, the restaurant offers a traditional, handwritten menu that reflects seasonal selections and house specialties. Guests typically make their choices from the printed menu presented at the table or from offerings recited by the staff, adding to the personalized and intimate dining experience.